PRICE ONE CENT.

THE BULLS A LITTLE AHEAD.

A BRISK BATTLE IN WHICH BEARS FOUGHT WELL BUT WERE BEATEN.

A General Dropping in Prices and Then a Rally-Great Blocks of Rending Thrown at the Bulis-High Prices of American Stocks in London Used as a Weapon by the Bulls-A Lively Day on Change.

- WALL STREET, Oct. 17.

business this morning t became apparent that a contest between the giants of speculation was impending. The bulls had the ad vantage of early quotations from London showing that Ameri. cans there were selling above the closing figures of Saturday. This they claimed would put the shorts to flight and lead to a big rally. The bears however, took a different view of things., and showed that they did not lack the courage of the convic-tions by hurling immense blocks of various stocks at their opponents at steadily declin-stocks at their opponents at steadily declining prices.

Reading was their great objective point, and, nothing daunted by the fact that the wealthy Wormsers and others are outspoken bulls on the stock, they forced it down from 60 to 58½ in a very short time. One, five and even ten thousand shares were offered in single blocks by the Bateman-Cammack side, and the Exchange resounded with the shouts of the brokers who had been intrusted with the execution of these orders. Northwest tumbled to 104½, St. Paul to 69%, Telegraph to 78, Jersey to 68%, Missour Pacific to 86½, Burlington to 123½, Omaha to 34, and Pacific Mail to 32½.

It soon looked as though the bulls would have to retire in short order, but they didn't, and, in fact, they finally succeeded by a herculean effort in turning the current.

Prices went like a shot until pretty much everything was about 1 per cent. above Saturday's closing figures. While this was not much of, a victory, yet it demonstrated that there was still a vigorous opposition to the bear forces and that the market had some rallying power left, which was comforting to holders who by reason of the recent slump and wasting away of margins are skating on pretty thin ice.

Seymour, Baker & Co. sold about 15,000 Reading.

seymour, Baker & Co. sold about 15,000 Reading.

Atchison jumped from 90½ to 92%.

The short interest is large, and this is clearly proven by the rates ruling in the loan crowd. To-day Chicago, Burlington and Quincy was worth 1-16 per cent., New York Central 1-128 a 1-32, Lake Shore 1-64 and Reading flat to 1-64 for use.

The arrivals of gold since Saturday amounted to $1,135,567, all by the La Champagne. Total imports since July 23, 1887, about $24,400,000.

Sterling exchange is strong and nearly all the leading drawers post their rates at 4.82½ and 4.86½.

Money 5 per cent.

Trying Hard to Anchor O'Brien. EXCITEMENT AT WOODFORD.

Dramatic Midnight Meeting which Surprised the Irlsb Police.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE EVENING WORLD.] DUBLIN, Oct. 17.-The midnight massmeeting at Woodford last night was not only a most dramatic and picturesque affair, but was a complete surprise for the police, who were ingeniously outwitted by the Irish leaders.

Large bodies of country people went to Woodford during the afternoon, but they made no attempt to hold a meeting. Word was secretly given them to wait until night. The police in the meantime occupied every place where men could assemble and guarded every street corner.

The day passed quietly. After dask the constabulary withdrew to their quarters, satisfied that they had prevented any infraction of the proclamation farbidding the proposed meeting. The crowds of people had not diminished, but kept very quiet and remained mostly indoors.

Suddenly on the stroke of midnight the whole town burst into illumination. Every window-pane hap its candle and hundreds of men poured into the streets with lighted torches. Mr. O'Brien and other Irish leaders appeared at the windows of their hotel. The torchbearers assembled and cheered. Here a regular meeting was held. Patriotic addresses were delivered by Mr. O'Brien, Mr. Rowutree, M. P., and Wilfrid Blunt.

It was at an upper window, beyond the reach of the police, that Editor O'Brien, after reading some extracts from the proclamstion of the Viceroy, seized a torch. thrust the paper into the flame and let the burning fragments fall into the street. Such a scene never was witnessed in Ireland. The andience was wild with excitement, and cheered, screamed, yelled and tossed their hats and torches for everal minutes.

The police hastily turned out, but did not dare to interfere with the excited mass. The speaker went on and the meeting by torchlight continued until 3 o'clock in the morning, when resolutions denouncing coercion and the efforts of the government to break up the National League were adopted.

Judges-C. C. Wheeler and A. H. Batteraby, Timer-W. H. Hawxhurst, Secretary-J. H. McGowan, Starter-Cabe Caldwell.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] CLIPTON, N. J., Oct. 17 .- A fine day, no racing elsewhere in this vicinity, and the fact that it is "blue Monday" for many of the mill operatives at Paterson, all aided to make the crowd the largest of the season. The track is in fine condition, and the racing proved quite good, although the favorite was bowled out in the first race by Bass Viol, who started at 15 to 1 against. The "old-timer," Joe Mitchell, squared the deal in the second race, with 2 to freely laid against him. For the third race, the second choice reached the post first, followed by a pair of promising two-year-olds, of which Carrie G, was second and the Californian, Joe Clark, third.

The fourth race was the race of the day. It was a handicap at a mile and a furlong, and it resulted in a "dead heat" between the two second choices Top Sawyer and Bordelaise. The owners could not agree on a division and they ran it off with twenty minutes interval, when Top Sawyer proved the winner. The last race, a dash of seven furlongs, for maidens, was won by Lex.

Burning of the Kent House-Narrow Escape of the Servants. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD]

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 17.-The Lake tages in Lakewood are on fire and are burning rapidly. Later despatches from Lakewood say the Kent House is a total ruin. The loss is $130,000, with an insurance of $36,000. It was the largest and finest hotel on Lake Chautauqua and had 900 guests the past season. The Lakeview Hotel was saved, as were most of the cottages. It appears that at 5.15 o'clock a servant overturned a lamp in the laundry of the Kent

House, and in a few moments the north wing of the vast building was in flames. The building was a six-story structure, built of wood, and burned like tinder, and the servants had a narrow escape. A dozer cottages fronting Lakeview avenue took fire but most of them were saved by the bucket brigades. The Lakeview House was on fire a score of times, but the firemen from Jamestown saved it.

stairs to the sleeping room of John G. Allport's two daughters and Annie Stevens, a nurse. He broke open the door and shouted "Fire!" Running back, Morris hustled the other two out. His work was not yet all done, for in the next room lay the janitor and the proprietor of the chandlery on the ground floor, who has been for some weeks confined to bed. His name is John G. Allport, and he weighs over two hundred pounds. With the flames crackling about him Norris helped his heavy burden to the street, and then took all the rescued people around to Coenties slip.

The fire spread from 17 South street to 123 and 125 Broad street, where W. W. Wickes kept a stock of syrups and molasses. Wickes's loss is estimated at $30,000. The building is damaged to the amount of $7,000. Mr. Allport's loss at 17 South street amounts to $6,000. The loss on the building is estimated at $10,000.
